Deirdre Sullivan, author:

Deirdre Sullivan is a writer from Galway now living in Dublin and working as a teacher. She has established a reputation for herself as a leading Irish YA author following her trilogy on the teenage years of Primrose Leary, which has been widely acclaimed; two of the Prim books were shortlisted for the CBI awards; and the final one, Primperfect, was also shortlisted for the European Prize for Literature – the only YA novel to be nominated for this award from any European country. She has also written some shorter books under the pseudonym Annie Graves.

Patricia Forde, author:

Patricia Forde lives in Galway. She has written many books and television programmes for children including Mise Agus An Dragún and three stories following the adventures of madcap Lola in the Frogs Do Not Like Dragons books. Her first novel The Wordsmith was published in May 2015. It won a White Raven award from the International Youth Library and was shortlisted for the CBI Book of the Year Awards earlier this year.

School Library Teach-Meet:

This session will consist of short presentations by school library staff about initiatives or methods they use in their libraries which work for them. It will be an idea sharing session and each presentation will be followed by an opportunity to ask questions and discuss the topic.
